INDEX TO VOLUME 21, 1979

Asha*, A journal of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association

Index A: Articles

Butler, Katharine G., At the vortex: myth and reality, January 3- 6

Cartwright, Lynn R., and Ruscello, Dennis M., A survey on parent involvement in speech clinics, April . 275-279

Dowling, Susann, The teaching clinic: a supervisory alternative, September 646-649

Garrard, Kay R., The changing role of speech and hearing professionals in public education, February 91- 98

Glass, Lillian, Coping with the bilingual child, August 512-519

Oratio, Albert R., Computer assisted interaction analysis in speech-language pathology and audiology, March 179-184

Index B: Reports

Adair, Melanie, and Griffin, Kathleen, Quality assurance: a professional quest for speech-language pathologists and audiologists, October 871-874

ASHA Committee on Audiometric Evaluation, Guidelines for acoustic immittance screening of middle-ear function, April 283-288

Del Polito, Gene A., Commentary on why physicians may regret a decision to dispense hearing aids, January 12- 14

Del Polito, Gene A., The Code of Ethics — one year later, November 923-926

Downey, Morgan, Legal developments — Antitrust and Sunset laws, January 7- 11

Dublinske, Stan, New opportunities for speech-language pathologists and audiologists, December ... 998-1002

Erickson, Joan Good, Dengler, Peggy E., Fairbanks, Nina B., and Pryor, Brandt W., A study of the continuing professional education needs of speech-language pathologists and audiologists in the state of Illinois, February 101-110

Goldstein, David P., Audiological rehabilitation and hearing aid dispensing in a university teaching clinic, September 650-653

Grossman, Donna Brown, Progress and peril: a report on the status of state licensure, December ... 1004-1009

Miller, Maurice H., Implications of recent hearing aid regulations on the delivery of services to the hearing impaired, June 411-416

Muma, John R. Webb, Patricia Hill, and Muma, Diane Busk, Language training in speech-language pathology and audiology: a survey, July 467-473

National office activities report, August 535-544

National office salaries, December 1003

Nelson, Max, Archival status of state associations, February 110-112

Perrin, Kenneth, 1978 survey on educational programs in speech-language pathology and audiology, July 473-480

Perrin, Kenneth, Personal incomes in the speech and hearing profession, August 522-534

Ratusnik, David L., Klor, Barry M., and Milianti, Frank J., Institutional research productivity based on publication in the journals of the American Speech and Hearing Association: 1968 through 1977, February 99-100

Rees, Norma, ASHA: Directions for the 1980's, May 351-352

Sparks, Shirley, N., Speech pathology and audiology in Brazil, April 280-282

Subcommittee on Speech Audiometry of the ASHA Committee on Audiometric Evaluation, Guidelines for determining the threshold level for speech, May 353-356